

The Cade Museum

Gainesville, Florida

Master Planning and Conceptual Design

For the Cade Museum in Gainesville, we conceived a building that seems to flow naturally into the landscape and master plan for the reclamation and renovation of Depot Park. In addition to state of the art galleries, the three story, 55,000 square foot facility will include a theater, science labs for use by schools and others, a restaurant and a dedicated space for hosting top traveling exhibits. The building is also designed to serve as a venue for meetings and community events.

The Cade Museum, projected to open in 2012, will be much more than a building. It will be an extraordinary community resource that will be an important part of Gainesville's future economic development.
