

Art and Music Building

Colby College Waterville, Maine

Architect for expansion

This addition and renovation to the existing Bixler Art and Music Building at Colby College includes a painting studio, sculpture studios, and art galleries. The major design objective is to create a structure sympathetic to the neighboring Neo-Georgian buildings on the campus, while also providing contemporary spaces and lighting within the new art and music facilities.

